

Vestman Island golf course

The Vestmannaeyar golf course is located on one of the Vestman Islands which are group of islands of the south coast of Iceland. The golf course is set in an old volcano, is a wonderful test of golf. Teeing off against a backdrop of volcanic walls; changing wind directions on the same hole and playing across and over the sea are all features of golf in Vestmannaeyjar. The course has a reputation for having the best greens in the country.
